Confidence of Exam Boards Review of evidence

All Schools and Colleges were informed that one awarding body (Exam board) would review the evidence that we used to formulate your Teacher Assessed Grades (TAG's) this summer. You should be aware that we were reviewed by four awarding bodies in total and the great news is that none of them felt the need to request any additional information or review any additional evidence. This was a very welcome endorsement of your teachers' judgements and gave us a very high level of confidence in the assessment of your grades.
