

Andrea Peiris

Assistant Head of Raising Standards

Andrea has held various positions of responsibility over the last 20 years from a Key Stage Leader to the Head of Maths to a Lead Practitioner to Trust Director in East London and Essex schools. These roles have given her a range of experience in making rapid progress in schools.

She joined LDE UTC as Lead Practitioner and Head of Maths and helped boost the grades in Maths at KS5. She has recently become Assistant Head of raising standards across various faculties and is looking forward to helping shape the future of the college. She qualified as an Engineer from the University of Bristol in 2000 with first-class honours and worked as a financial consultant in London and Europe for 3 years before starting her teaching career in 2004. Working in industry has given her an appreciation of the doors Maths can open up for any career path. In her spare time, Andrea loves spending time with her family, painting and travelling.
