

Jonathan Allard – Workshop Technician

Jonathan is a Workshop Technician with a background in design, prototyping and manufacturing. Previously he worked at an industry-leading escape room company in Kings Cross, where he spent much time developing and engineering new designs for their rooms as well as maintaining the facilities and equipment in the workshop.

He later went on to work as a manufacturing technician at a company specialising in guided-ultrasonic wave testing equipment. Jonathan looks forward to working at LDE UTC and supporting the workshop team to provide excellent experiences and facilities for the next generation of designers and engineers to achieve their goals.
