

Lewis Richmond    Resident Spoken Word Poet

Lewis Richmond is a published poet with a passion for prose, page poetry and spoken word. Lewis studied English Literature and Creative Writing at Royal Holloway University where he achieved a first-class honours degree, and received The Phillipa Hicks Memorial Prize.

Having performed spoken word poetry across London for over five years, Lewis has had the privilege of impacting and inspiring audiences through rhyme. Lewis has over five years' experience as an English and Creative Writing Tutor, equipping him to raise aspirations and inspire learners to read more, be confident with their literacy skills and express themselves through writing and spoken word.

As the Resident Spoken Word Poet, Lewis gives regular topical performances to inspire students. He is also responsible for Communications, which includes providing social media, website, termly newsletter content, and producing the LDE UTC end of year annual.
